

Clayton MMC ED Early Pregnancy Bleeding Procedure

Early pregnancy bleeding $\leq 12/40$ presenting Weekdays 8-5pm

FAQ

When are scans done?

If stable previously confirmed intrauterine pregnancy, scan will be done next day.

If there is no previous scan or patient has high risk of ectopic, scan will be done on the same day with O+G review.

All patients will have follow up arranged.

When and where is early pregnancy bleeding clinic?

The O&G Reg attends the Early Pregnancy Bleeding Clinic (EPBC) between 1- 4.30 pm Monday to Friday in a room at the US department.

Patients arriving to EPBC prior to this time are assessed by USS staff and wait for O&G Reg for review if needed.

Can patient be transferred back to ED.

Yes.

- If patient is unstable and or has excessive pain/bleeding and have been discussed with O+G registrar
- If ectopic pregnancy is confirmed or suspected and patient needs inpatient care, but no inpatient bed is available.
- If patient needs Rh Ig out of hours

What happens after hours?

Patient will be appropriately managed in Emergency department and will be discharged with USS request and EPBC referral (via SMR).
